University of Georgia Food Services

What You Agree to Do

In signing and submitting this May or Summer Session contract to UGA Food Services, you agree to make payment on your student account balance in accordance with billing instructions published by the University of Georgia Bursar's Office. The charge for the meal plan(s) you choose will be posted to your student account. You will receive notification of the meal plan charge posting to your student account along with payment instructions from the Bursar via an e-mail to the e-mail address you have registered with The University of Georgia.

You agree NOT to take food out of the dining halls. This promise is very important: without it we couldn't possibly offer such great all-you-can-eat menus at such terrific prices. If you take food out of the dining halls, we can take away your Meal Plan rights without giving you a refund.

You agree to behave responsibly in the dining halls. If you behave irresponsibly in the dining halls, then we can take away your Meal Plan rights without giving you a refund.

What We Agree to Do

We agree to give you our Award Winning "all-you-can-eat" dining hall access during the period covered under the plan you choose. (If you lose your UGA Card, just go to the Tate Center to get another one. We are unable to give you a temporary card.) Our agreement is with you and not with anyone else, so you can't transfer your Meal Plan rights to other people.

Your encoded UGA Card is your key to unlimited and unrestricted access into the dining hall(s) open for service.

Your Meal Plan Bill of Rights

If you decide that you don't want to be on the Meal Plan and you let us know before the first serving day of the May or Summer plan(s) you have chosen, then you have the right to leave the Meal Plan. The charge to your student account will be credited in full, less a $25.00 administrative fee.

If you decide not to enroll at the University you may cancel your contract and the charge to your student account for the meal plan will be credited in full, less a $25.00 administrative fee.

If you decide to withdraw you may cancel your meal plan contract. Refunds in the form of a credit to your student account will be made through the 2nd week after the dining halls open for meal plan service. No refund credits are made after the 2nd week of service.

If interruption of enrollment occurs as a result of University disciplinary action, no refund credits will be made to your student account after the 2nd week of the session.

If a physician prescribes a special diet for you to address a health problem and Food Services is unable to provide the special diet, then you have the right to leave the Meal Plan; we'll issue a refund credit for all of the money that you've paid us for future meals. Our on-staff registered dietitian is ready to help with counseling to make the Meal Plan work for you. You can't leave the Meal Plan because of a diet that you follow for other reasons, or because you've committed to eating somewhere else (like a sorority or fraternity or other social organization), so be sure the Meal Plan is right for you before you sign up.

Refund credits to your student account will not be given for any meals missed because of academic scheduling problems or trips taken by students for academic or extracurricular purposes. For academic scheduling conflicts, off-site meals may be provided to students who meet requirements. For periods of sickness or hospitalization, a refund credit will be granted for all meals missed in excess of 15 consecutive meals when supported by a physician's statement.

Other Important Information

Signing up for the Meal Plan is not the same thing as admission to the University. You can't participate in the Meal Plan unless you have a valid UGA Card.

This agreement is severable. That means that if any part of the agreement is invalid, the rest of the agreement is valid.

Food Services reserves the right to limit the number of dining halls it operates during the last registration period prior to the beginning of classes and on the last examination day of each summer session.

Cancellation will result in a refund credit to your student account, less 30% of the stated price of the contract, plus the cash rate for each day on the meal plan

Student's Signature of Agreement
