

KATY LOGUE THOMPSON (HILL)

Katy Logue Thompson's past volunteer experiences with Habitat for Humanity, Hands on Atlanta, AthFest and Nuçi's Space fostered a love for nonprofit organizations and created an admiration for what can be accomplished when a group of people devote themselves to a mission. It was an enthusiasm and passion for the arts and community that led Katy to the contemporary arts scene. While completing her undergraduate work in Art History at The University of Georgia, she worked with ATHICA: Athens Institute for Contemporary Art, Inc., initially as an intern, but also gaining experiences curating two thematic exhibits and, finally, earning the responsibility of Vice President of the Board of Directors.

Katy is currently pursuing her graduate degree in Nonprofit Organizations: Development and Management and works as a graduate assistant in the Department of University Housing supervising a staff of undergraduate students. She spent her summer in Austin, Texas, working at Sustainable Food Center, an organization that cultivates a healthy community by strengthening the local food system and improving access to nutritious, affordable food. Upon graduation, Katy hopes to continue her work in grassroots arts organizations committed to acknowledging and advancing contemporary art. Katy is also the Community Advisor for the Hill Community. You can contact Katy at klogue@uga.edu.
